Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 2-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 2 is indefinite because it is not clear what is meant by the limitation that the engagement part fits on the stepped engagement part "from outside." From outside of what?

In claims 4 and 5, it is not clear what the roller is prevented "from coming off" of.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. Claims 1 and 6/1 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being clearly anticipated by Egle et al.

The roller pieces 136 are press-fit to the support shaft.

4. Claims 1, 3, 4, 6/1, 6/3, and 6/4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dorris.

The engagement of the rollers with the stepped engagement part 24 prevents the rollers from coming off the shaft 26.

The limitation of the assembly being formed by press fitting is given no patentable weight in the product claim.

With respect to claim 6, the ring 40 is the projection.

5. Claims 1, 3, 4, 6/1, 6/3, 6/4, 7/1, 7/3, 7/4, 7/6/3/1, 7/6/4/1, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yoon.

The manner in which the rollers (40 or 500) are assembled on the shaft (10 or 100) (such as by press-fitting) is given no patentable weight in the apparatus claim.

Note the stepped portions between the rollers as shown in figures 1 and 3.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2, 5, 6/2, 6/5, 7/2, 7/5, and 7/6/5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references show other roller assemblies.
